FEDERAL AID TO SETTLE STRIKE ASKED BY UAW

Ward Plants Surrounded By Pickets As Week-Long 'Layoff' Opens

425,000 WORKERS IDLE Reuther Asks G-M Officials To Resume Talks On Strike Issue

BULLETIN
DETROIT, Nov. 26—Ford Motor company announced today that strikes at 15 firms making automotive supplies would force it to close its huge River Rouge plant and some subsidiary plants Tuesday night. M. L. Bricker, vice president in charge of production, said 40,000 workers would be laid off for the remainder of the week. He said he did not know whether the shutdown would continue beyond this week, adding he hoped plants would reopen next Monday.

By United Press One CIO union asked federal aid today in settling the nationwide strike against the vast General Motors empire while another threw pickets around Montgomery Ward & Co. properties in 12 cities, the curtain raiser of a one-week "demonstration" layoff.

These labor developments came as walkouts and work stoppages idled 425,000 workers, a figure expected to soar above the national mark as 75,000 Ward employees go out during the day.

Wage issues, chiefly the CIO demand for 30-percent pay increases to compensate for reduced peacetime take-home cash, were behind most of the strikes.

In its sixth day, the system-wide strike against the General Motors Corp. had taken 175,000 away from their jobs as pickets at 83 GM plants prevented entrance of office employees and added 73,000 to the number already idled in the walkout.

CIO-UAW Vice President Walter Reuther telephoned two top GM executives asking that corporation representatives meet with spokesmen for the union and the U. S. conciliation service to reopen negotiations of the union demand for 30 percent more money.

"We again propose that the U. S. conciliation service be allowed full participation," Reuther said at the conclusion of a union strike strategy committee meeting in Detroit.

Meantime, the CIO United Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employes' union began picketing Montgomery Ward & Co. plants in a resumption of a wartime labor dispute which ended in seizure of Ward properties by the government.

The demonstration was called after Sewell Avery, militant board chairman of the big mail order house, failed to agree to arbitrate contract differences, Union Executive Vice President Leonard Levy said.

President's 'Notion' To Fly To See Mother Does Not Surprise Her

GRANDVIEW, Mo., Nov. 26—Mrs. Martha Truman settled down to her routine household tasks today and figured that her 93rd birthday present had been the best of all—a surprise visit from her son who became President.

Mrs. Truman, keen-eyed and ready-witted, was not in the least disturbed by all the furor her famous son caused when he "took a notion" to see his mother yesterday.

Smiling slightly, the little old lady indicated it was "like Harry" to make an unannounced 2,000-mile plane trip to spend only two hours with her on her birthday.

The President's mother had hoped for a telephone call from him but said she wouldn't be too disappointed because he probably was busy, her daughter, Miss Mary Jane Truman, said last night.

"We didn't know he was coming until just a few minutes before he walked in," Miss Truman said.

JERUSALEM, Nov. 26—British airborne soldiers with fixed bayonets forced their way into a Jewish village against resistance today while thousands of angered Jews milled and shouted in the dusty streets.

A number of villagers were injured in tussle with soldiers in the communal dining room of the village named Shefayim.

With virtually the entire Palestine coast under curfew, the British were trying to smash a new outbreak of violence started by the bombing of two police stations near Tel Aviv yesterday by Jewish extremists.

They also sought to break the illegal immigration of Jews who were coming ashore from small blockade-running boats. Yesterday's attack was believed to be in revenge for British seizure of a boat.

As Nazi Big-Wigs Hear Allies' Damaging Testimony

THE 20 chief Nazi defendants at Nuremberg, Germany, listen to the damaging testimony presented by the Allied prosecution in the trial of Hitler's henchmen before an Allied military tribunal. ## REDS DEFEATED BY AUSTRIANS

Communists Dealt Severe Blow In First Election In 14 Years

VIENNA, Nov. 26—Partial returns from Austria's first free election in 14 years showed today that the Communists had suffered a defeat so severe they may not win a single seat in the new parliament.

The conservative people's party appeared to have won a small plurality over the Socialist party, but reports were lacking from many rural districts.

There was no question that the voters, who turned out in exceptional strength, had dealt the Communists a stunning blow. Some observers interpreted it as primarily a protest against the occupation forces.

Russian troops occupied Vienna by themselves for many weeks before a joint occupation with the other allies was arranged.

Final tabulation will give the Communists only five to eight per cent of the total vote, it was indicated. Pre-election forecasts generally had predicted 15 per cent for them.

Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas, D. Calif., former stage and screen star, deplored "the concentration of histrionics" in the current congressional Pearl Harbor investigation and urged that peace-loving women of the world "band together" to develop better international relations.

Last Ambassador To Japan Gives His Testimony To Pearl Harbor Group

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull said today the state department favored basing the fleet at Pearl Harbor before the war and that he still believes that view was "thoroughly justified."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—The Pearl Harbor investigating committee today asked Joseph C. Grew, last ambassador to Japan, to tell what he discovered in Tokyo about Japanese plans to attack the United States.

The scientists said in a statement to President Truman and other government officials that it would not have been any more "disreputable and illconsidered" to have burned Japanese libraries or smashed the empire's printing presses.

"Men who cannot distinguish between the usefulness of the research machine and the military importance of a 16-inch gun have no place in positions of authority," the statement said.

HITLER PLAN REVEALED

Nazis Decided In 1937 War Necessary To 'Solve German Problems'

NUERNBERG, Nov. 26—The war crimes tribunal today gave Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Nazi financial wizard, permission to call witnesses in an attempt to prove Schacht tried to overthrow Adolf Hitler in 1938 and participated in the plot against Hitler's life in July, 1944.

Schacht's request for the witnesses for the first time indicated the line of defense he would take against prosecution charges that his financial manipulations provided the money with which Hitler re-armed Germany in preparation for war.

Clues as to the type of defense which will be offered by most of the 20 war crimes defendants were given when the court granted a whole series of requests for witnesses and documents to be produced in their behalf.

The court action came as the American prosecution presented to the court minutes of a conference held by Hitler Nov. 10, 1937 at which Hitler laid down what he called "my last will and testament" which called for the use of force by Germany to solve her problems.

At this conference the ground work for preparation of plans to seize Austria and Czechoslovakia was laid. This led to preparation of what was called "plan green" for a lightning blitz of Czechoslovakia which was to be touched off by an incident. The assassination of the Nazi ambassador at Prague was suggested as a touch off incident but finally was rejected.

U. S. AWAITING MOSCOW REPLY ON IRAN NOTE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—The state department was awaiting a reply from Moscow today to its note of inquiry about operations of Red army forces in northern Iran.

The U. S. note, it was learned, was cabled last Friday following Iranian charges that the recent uprisings in Azerbaijan province were Soviet-inspired.

The note pointed out that this government was unable to get any information because communications still were severed between the U. S. consulate in Azerbaijan province and the U. S. embassy in Tehran, the Iranian capital.

Authoritative sources said the note also referred to the Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin agreement at Tehran in 1943 which guaranteed the territorial integrity and independence of Iran. It did not according to these sources, refer to the continued presence of Soviet and British troops in Iran—which Iranian ambassador Hussein Ali described as the "crux" of the problem.

The Iranian envoy arranged to talk at the state department again today to urge U. S. influence in getting foreign troops out of his country.

He recalled that in accordance with the tri-partite agreement, Great Britain and Russia pledged Iran to withdraw their forces, which had been brought in to protect the lend-lease supply route to Russia, within six months after the end of hostilities. They chose, he added, "the ultimate date—March 2."

Balanced Budget Unlikely Until 1948, Taft And George Believe

EXPENSES STAGGERING

$5,000,000 Paid To U. S. Troops Overseas; Receipts Down

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—High officials predicted today that the government would have a budget of around $50,000,000,000 for the 1947 fiscal year despite the large cut in war expenses.

A budget that size, it was said, would necessitate continued deficit financing and mean that new tax cuts would be out of the picture for the immediate future at least.

The 1947 budget, covering the year beginning July 1, 1946, will be made public shortly after Jan. 1.

Chairman Walter F. George, D., of the senate finance committee and Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., agreed that a balanced budget was highly unlikely by 1948. Taft doubted, however, that the 1947 budget would be more than $40,000,000.

Other high government officials believed the $50,000,000,000 budget would be accompanied by federal receipts of around $30,000,000,000 for the year beginning July 1, leaving a sizeable deficit.

While government spending is dropping they said, government income is also dropping sharply as result of the newly-passed tax relief bill for 1946. The $30,000,000,000 in estimated revenue for the 1947 fiscal year compares with $46,457,000,000 in fiscal 1945.

WRITER CHARGES ARMY 'STALLED' OUT OF BOWL

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 26—Army "stalled its way" out of the Rose Bowl and forced the Bowl committee to take Alabama, their original second choice, Sports Editor Rube Samuelsen charged today.

Samuelsen, who has been a close observer of Rose Bowl games for 18 years, said in the Pasadena Star-News yesterday that the Bowl committee wanted Army, asked them to take the bid, and was then forced to choose Alabama rather than itself with no strong contender at all for the New Year's day game after Army refused to give a definite answer.

At least as Thanksgiving, Samuelsen wrote, the Bowl committee was still trying to get Army, but the Cadets hung back on three conditions:

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower must give an opinion as new chief of staff; if this was forthcoming, Army still could give no answer until after the Army-Navy game Dec. 1; the Army must beat Navy.

"The Rose Bowl was willing to gamble on Army's winning over Navy if the war department would come forth with an opinion on the Bowl game, but West Point would have none of that," Samuelsen said.

Samuelsen said Alabama had been given Sugar Bowl bid, but preferred the Rose Bowl. He added that the committee feared it would lose both Army and Alabama unless it made a bid for the southern team before the Crimson Tide tired of waiting and signed for the Sugar Bowl.

CIO workers at all but the Michigan branches, scheduled to leave their jobs tomorrow, were told not to report for work today.

The labor picture brightened somewhat on the west coast where the end of the two-month northwest lumber strike appeared near after 25 Tacoma, Wash., AFL locals reached a wage compromise with operators.

Chairman John Christensen of the northwest strike policy committee said that his committee had accepted a 15-cent-an-hour wage boost and that all locals in the forest belt had been urged also to accept. The committee had asked 20-cent raise, to bring the minimum hourly wage to $1.10 for the industry.

In Washington, an industry plan for minimizing strikes was expected to be taken under scrutiny today by the executive committee of the labor-management conference. Fact-finding machinery would be set up to publicly look into any labor dispute threatening public health or safety.

Reuther made the bid for government intervention in the GM strike in a telegram sent late yesterday to C. E. Wilson, GM president, and H. W. Anderson, GM vice president and personnel director. He also proposed allowing press and radio representatives to sit in on negotiations meetings.

The company on Nov. 7 refused the union's request for participation of U. S. conciliators in wage talks. The corporation finally agreed to have conciliators present, but solely as observers. It was the second time also that Reuther had tried to open the meetings to newsmen.

Other GM strike developments included Wilson's claim that the company's compromise 10-per cent wage offer, made earlier this month, were in line with President Truman's wage policy speech Oct. 30, the opening of a two-day UAW executive board meeting and setting up by the union of soup pickets for pickets.

In New York, 4,000 drivers for the Railway Express Agency there and in New Jersey voted to walk off their jobs at midnight next Saturday. The drivers, members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs, recommended a special presidential board's recommended 10-cent hourly wage increase. They asked a straight 20-per cent raise.

The New York expressmen's strike meeting was the first of a series to be held in key cities over the country.

In an effort to settle the crippling Greyhound bus lines strike, Samuel D. Berroong, international representative of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America (AFL), was in Chicago today for conferences with local union officers.

The U. S. conciliation service is meeting with management and union representatives at Fort Worth, Tex., trying to end a strike of southwestern Greyhound employees.

A conference of 25 Ohio mayors was scheduled for Monday in Columbus to protest continued suspension of bus service.

Six thousand Greyhound workers in 26 states want arbitration of various issues, including wages and working conditions.

A compromise wage agreement Saturday averted a threatened nationwide walkout of long distance telephone operators and maintenance men. The Illinois Telephone Traffic Union (Ind.) ended a five-day strike and agreed to accept a $6 a week wage increase, with a $4 retroactive to last May, and $2 effective by Feb. 1.

At dawn the village chief of Shefayim refused to give the British a guarantee that the inhabitants would behave properly if troops entered the town. A military curfew was proclaimed by loudspeaker, but the inhabitants refused to observe it.

At 7:15 a. m. two formations of soldiers, one carrying sticks and the second bayonets, strode into the town. They rounded up men, women and children in the streets who were disobeying the curfew and herded them into barbed wire entanglements.

Soldiers shot at one man trying to escape town, but missed.

A smoke bomb was set off, blanketing the settlement, while two airplanes patrolled overhead.

Hundreds more Jews had been gathering outside the village since daybreak. They broke through the military cordon in the village while the raid was in progress and swarmed through the streets.

The cordon around Rishpon was lifted without incident.

A broadcast by the so-called Jewish resistance movement radio "Voice of Israel" claimed credit for the police station bombings and stated that the movement would continue support for illegal immigration.

CHIANG FORCES MAKING GAINS IN MANCHURIA

CHUNGKING, Nov. 26—Chinese Nationalist troops were reported today at the Kowpangtze railroad junction, 178 miles inside Manchuria, and advancing speedily toward the 88-mile gap to Mukden, where Russian troops were waiting to receive them.

An authoritative government source said advance elements of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's forces were on the outskirts of Kowpangtze after capturing Chinsien, 48 miles to the southwest, in a three-hour battle Saturday.

The two governments agreed to set up the commission after Britain rejected President Truman's request that the British give immediate haven in Palestine to 100,000 European Jews.

The State department and the British foreign office are now exchanging views on organization of the commission. President Truman was reported to favor a six-man group, half American and half British, with a rotating chairmanship. An agreement may be reached this week.

Meanwhile the American Jewish committee appealed to Secretary of State James F. Byrnes to exert every effort to speed up the entry of 100,000 homeless and stateless Jews from Europe to Palestine before winter sets in.

UP AND DOWN BROADWAY

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—This is a big party season around town and it's getting bigger. The elimination of food rationing certainly won't be a deterrent to this form of indoor sport.

I'm speaking of parties ostensibly connected with business; not private affairs. While the war was on, except in the last year, there was a sizable drop in these assemblies. Especially lacking were the cocktail comeons of the book publishers, who once excelled in such matters.

While the publishers were resting more or less on their prewar reputations, the party-throwing honors were usurped by the radio people. Routs for visiting Hollywood celebrities ran a rather poor second. However, the publishers are back in the field again and there is bound to be some lusty competition now that the wraps are off. In these days of high taxes the advertising and promotion budgets can well stand a few hundred dollars here and there to stir up good-will among those "who matter".

The hotels get this party trade for the most part. They have special rooms of all sizes for such gatherings and the catering facilities are at hand. Take the Waldorf Astoria, for example.

The other afternoon there were four parties in progress on the same floor, all within a few doors of each other. It would have been possible for anyone of presentable appearance to take in all of them with or without invitations. The doors were open and once inside there were waiters practically forcing the guests to select from a variety of drinks. Any crasher putting his mind to his work could have circulated sufficiently to obtain a week's supply of cigarettes and cigars. Even before the end of rationing the food situation had improved to the point where genuine sandwiches were supplementing the tiny canapes, so it would have been easy to take in enough food at the four parties to tide one over until the morrow. And, of course, the achievement of four hangovers would have been simplicity itself.

There's one prime trouble with these parties. You're apt to see the same people back when there is a tough job to do, and refuses to think realistically when war threatens."

Well, Santa Claus has delighted generation after generation of children who, when grown up, have not shown the tendencies which Gen. Chisholm deplores. Perhaps he can weather even the splitting of the atom.

JEROME KERN

THE late Jerome Kern belonged to an honorable tradition which has done much to improve American popular music. His pleasing melodies, of which he, like many others, preferred "Ol' Man River", have delighted millions. He carried on the work of Victor Herbert, and influenced contemporary popular composers like Sigmund Romberg, as well as Richard Rodgers, to whom "Oklahoma" owes its tunefulness.

There are not enough composers today of light music of quality.

The Talmud, fountain-head of Jewish wisdom, says truly, "The day is short and the work is great. It is not incumbent upon thee to complete the work, but thou must not therefore cease from it." Good advice for those who think that the mere ending of the war ensures permanent peace.

Gildron Club Dinners To Be Revived Jan. 15

Women Are Barred From Newsman's Famed Party

By HELEN ESSARY

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON—Journalism (dining-out division) is about to itself again in the national capital.

The Gildron Club is on the verge of waking from its duration of slumber. On Jan. 15, after a sleep of several years, this club of sharp-witted newspaper men will hold a colorful dinner, seasoned with the cayenne and tabasco of satire.

Turning big shots and big events this way and on a red-hot griddle, the 50 or more members of the famous dining club will make things sizzle in the old familiar fashion. As the skits scheduled to form the motif of the dinner are being rehearsed, it is evident that censorship is off.

I wish I could go to that dinner. I'd like to find out if the gentlemen of the press are more adroit in the use of the stiletto than are the ladies of the press.

Gildron dinners, according to custom, are held twice a year. Once in December and again on some early spring evening.

No women are ever invited to the dinners, although it is reported that Congresswoman Jeannette Rankin was once the guest of Member Harry Brown.

It is also reported that in the memory of some elder members, the early president of the club did sanction the presence of ladies. Not at the banquet table. On dear, no!—But upstairs in a balcony where they could be concealed behind potted palms.

Glaucoma, An Eye Disorder That May Cause Blindness

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MANY disorders affecting the eye are not understood very well by most persons. For example, many people do not know much about the condition called glaucoma. This is a disorder of the eye that may cause blindness. The exact cause of glaucoma is not known. In this condition there is an increase in the pressure of the fluids in the eyeball.

Another drug known as mecholyl may be employed, together with prostigmine bromide, particularly if the glaucoma is chronic or long continued. Epinephrine and similar substances are also used in the treatment of glaucoma, and are particularly helpful in cases of chronic glaucoma in which the normal pressure in the eyeball cannot be controlled with the miotics.

Another drug known as mecholyl may be employed, together with prostigmine bromide, particularly if the glaucoma is chronic or long continued. Epinephrine and similar substances are also used in the treatment of glaucoma, and are particularly helpful in cases of chronic glaucoma in which the normal pressure in the eyeball cannot be controlled with the miotics.

The patient should avoid emotional upsets and is instructed to avoid dark rooms, to stay outdoors on bright days, to discontinue the use of stimulating beverages, and to carry out home treatment prescribed by the doctor carefully.

Certain drugs known as miotics are employed in the treatment of glaucoma. Miotics dilate the pupil of the eye. One of these miotics is pilocarpine. It is put directly into the eye by the doctor and acts by stimulating contraction of the eye muscles. Now and then, after prolonged use, the eyeball may become inflamed, due to irritation from the drug. For this reason, Doctor Hahn prefers to administer pilocarpine in the form of an ointment at night.

Another drug known as eserine or physostigmine may also be employed. It is more powerful and longer lasting than pilocarpine.

In employing it, it is put into the eye by the doctor every minute for five minutes. Then the procedure is repeated in an hour and again after two or three hours.

Avoid Upsets

The patient should avoid emotional upsets and is instructed to avoid dark rooms, to stay outdoors on bright days, to discontinue the use of stimulating beverages, and to carry out home treatment prescribed by the doctor carefully.

Of course, all treatment of this sort should be carried out under the directions of an eye specialist.

Glaucoma is a serious condition and one which requires prompt and careful treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

K. B.: Will you please explain what pernicious anemia is and what causes it?

Answer: The cause of pernicious anemia is not known. In this condition, the individual becomes pale, anemic, and may have a slight yellowish tinge to his skin. He becomes weak, has poor appetite and may have intestinal symptoms, such as cramps in the abdomen, nausea, and vomiting. Weight is lost and the patient becomes easily fatigued. The condition may prove fatal if not treated.

"The Authority on Authorities"

A THREE-WAY PROBLEM

OPTEEN a declarer will have nine cards of a suit between his hand and the dummy, with the defenders holding the queen and three cards of less than trick-taking size. His hope then is to keep the queen from taking a trick. He has a three-way problem. Shall he try to kill the queen by playing the ace and king? Or should he finesse against his right-hand opponent, or against the one at his left? With no guidance from the bidding or play, he should follow the statistical probabilities in trying to drop it. But if one defender had shown length in certain other suits by his bids, the rather close probabilities are upset, and the odds may favor a finesse against his partner.

The sound, as well as the winning play, was a finesse of the diamond 10 on the second round. West had shown enough spades to open the bidding fourth-hand, also enough hearts to double that suit. Probabilities were heavy that East had more diamonds than he. East's bid of 1-No Trump also made it highly likely that he had what he considered a possible stopper of diamonds, which could be nothing except a twice-guarded queen. Reckoning that way, North should have made his contract.

Deciding to follow the usual probabilities, he led the diamond 9 from his own hand and played the K, hoping West originally held the Q-8. When that failed, his goose was cooked. He gave up a third diamond to East, whereupon two more spades tricks set him.

East's bid of 1-No Trump also made it highly likely that he had what he considered a possible stopper of diamonds, which could be nothing except a twice-guarded queen. Reckoning that way, North should have made his contract.

STYLE — SPEED — SAFETY

EVERYONE is talking about the new cars. Considering the condition of most family jalopies the new car becomes one of the major post war anticipations. The neighbor here and there who by some magic has managed to pry one loose from a harassed dealer is the envy of the community.

But the advent of the new automobile may bring a disappointing detail to light. Designers in many cases seem to have paid less attention to road worthiness and more to "modernizing." Hoods and fenders often are so built, seats so low and bodies so hugged to the ground, as to make it impossible for the driver to see a row of stones outlining a driveway. Visibility, certainly the basic safety requirement, has been sacrificed for the sleek new look and the streamlining necessary for speed.

With more and more cars about to be turned out on the roads in these new odd styles, drivers must dedicate themselves with increased energy to road responsibility.

SANTA CLAUS OUTMODED

IT is wrong to teach children to believe in Santa Claus, says Maj.-Gen. Brack Chisholm, Canadian deputy minister of health and welfare, who is also a psychiatrist. It might have been all right once, but not in the atomic age. Any child who believes in Santa Claus has, according to Gen. Chisholm, suffered a permanent injury to his ability to think. Such a child "will become the kind of man who develops a sore back when there is a tough job to do, and refuses to think realistically when war threatens."

Well, Santa Claus has delighted generation after generation of children who, when grown up, have not shown the tendencies which Gen. Chisholm deplores. Perhaps he can weather even the splitting of the atom.

JEROME KERN

THE late Jerome Kern belonged to an honorable tradition which has done much to improve American popular music. His pleasing melodies, of which he, like many others, preferred "Ol' Man River", have delighted millions. He carried on the work of Victor Herbert, and influenced contemporary popular composers like Sigmund Romberg, as well as Richard Rodgers, to whom "Oklahoma" owes its tunefulness.

There are not enough composers today of light music of quality.

The Talmud, fountain-head of Jewish wisdom, says truly, "The day is short and the work is great. It is not incumbent upon thee to complete the work, but thou must not therefore cease from it." Good advice for those who think that the mere ending of the war ensures permanent peace.

Gridiron Club Dinners To Be Revived Jan. 15

Women Are Barred From Newsman's Famed Party

By HELEN ESSARY
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON—Journalism (dining-out division) is about to be itself again in the national capital.

The Gridiron Club is on the verge of waking from its duration slumber. On Jan. 15, after a sleep of several years, this club of sharp-witted newspaper men will hold a colorful dinner, seasoned with the cayenne and tabasco of satire.

Turning big shots and big events this way and that on a red-hot griddle, the 50 or more members of the famous dining club will make things sizzle in the old familiar fashion. As the skits scheduled to form the motif of the dinner are being rehearsed, it is evident that censorship is off.

I wish I could go to that dinner. I'd like to find out if the gentlemen of the press are more adroit in the use of the stiletto than are the ladies of the press.

Gridiron dinners, according to custom, are held twice a year. Once in December and again on some early spring evening.

No women are ever invited to the dinners, although it is reported that Congresswoman Jeannette Rankin was once the guest of Member Harry Brown.

It is also reported that in the memory of some elder members, the early president of the club did sanction the presence of ladies. Not at the banquet table. Oh dear, no!—But upstairs in a balcony where they could be concealed behind potted palms.

I have never heard that this experiment in letting the little

UP AND DOWN BROADWAY

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—This is a big party season around town and it's getting bigger. The elimination of food rationing certainly won't be a deterrent to this form of indoor sport.

I'm speaking of parties ostensibly connected with business; not private affairs. While the war was on, except in the last year, there was a sizable drop in these assemblies. Especially lacking were the cocktail comeons of the book publishers, who once excelled in such matters.

While the publishers were resting more or less on their prewar reputations, the party-throwing honors were usurped by the radio people. Routs for visiting Hollywood celebrities ran a rather poor second. However, the publishers are back in the field again and there is bound to be some lusty competition now that the wraps are off. In these days of high taxes the advertising and promotion budgets can well stand a few hundred dollars here and there to stir up good-will among those "who matter".

The hotels get this party trade for the most part. They have special rooms of all sizes for such gatherings and the catering facilities are at hand. Take the Waldorf Astoria, for example.

The other afternoon there were four parties in progress on the same floor, all within a few doors of each other. It would have been possible for anyone of presentable appearance to take in all of them with or without invitations. The doors were open and once inside there were waiters practically forcing the guests to select from a variety of drinks. Any crasher putting his mind to his work could have circulated sufficiently to obtain a week's supply of cigarettes and cigars. Even before the end of rationing the food situation had improved to the point where genuine sandwiches were supplementing the tiny canapes, so it would have been easy to take in enough food at the four parties to tide one over until the morrow. And, of course, the achievement of four hangovers would have been simplicity itself.

There's one prime trouble with these parties. You're apt to see the same people too often. Only remedy: don't go.

Screen Star Joan Fontaine is combatting an attack of pneumonia and pleurisy in her hotel here. She became ill Wednesday. Her condition is not serious.

This week will be a big one theatrically for Boston. Producer Mike Todd will open there, on Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively, his new productions of Moliere's "The Would-Be Gentleman," starring Bobby Clark, and "Hamlet," starring Maurice Evans.

Lydia Fredericks got something besides just the understudy's break of playing a performance when she went on in "Up in Central Park" this week for Delma Byron. An agent who is helping cast the new production of "Show Boat" was in the audience and signed her for a role in that attraction.

Autograph hound trend: kids with their own cameras seeking the phizies as well as the fists of celebrities at first nights.

Today's most exciting view is the shopwindow filled with some long-absent item of pre-war goods, and the sign, "Yes, We Have Them."

woman in on things was too successful. Some of the members said it would have been swell if the women hadn't kept on asking: "What was funny about your show?"

Everybody who isn't a woman knows how awful it is to explain a joke to anybody who isn't a man. And when it is a political joke—an international joke that has to be explained—that's too much to ask of the most devoted of husbands.

The president of the United States, the members of the cabinet, ambassadors, big business, stars or military, the arts and letters will be among the dinner guests and watch each other being roasted and laugh while the sizzling is searing their own skins.

AT LAST I've gotten around to a party that was held for the "Lady Press." Mrs. Truman gave a buffet supper in its honor. The party was at the White House. No gentlemen admitted. Just us girls.

Don't tell me that the sexes aren't being segregated.

And no wonder womankind has brought the gloomy situation on its own head. And I mean Head. Look at the idiotic hats women are sticking on top of their wispy hair-dos. Victorian—every coy inch of them!

Bonnets and things tied under the chin and back hair drooping over the merrily arched neck. I'm not a feminist. I do think we've gone a trifle too cute—us girls.

"Bef' the wah, my dear, your father and I . . . Southern belles—that's what we're trying to be. In an atomic age. We're playing dumb while Rome burns. I almost agree with L. A. R. Wylie in her tart discussion of 'The Little Woman.' She says:

"Women are the eternal amateurs. . . . Their attitude toward themselves and their gods demands them to second rate ness. . . . Neither the vote too easily won, or the war fought at too great a distance have affected American women to any encouraging extent. . . . Woman has stood by and applauded while the other half of her species dealt her civilization blow from which she may never recover. . . . If anything is to be saved, the Little Woman will have to move out of the nest faster and get down into the dusty arena with her sleeves rolled up . . . ."

Glaucoma, An Eye Disorder That May Cause Blindness

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

MANY disorders affecting the eye are not understood very well by most persons. For example, many people do not know much about the condition called glaucoma. This is a disorder of the eye that may cause blindness. The exact cause of glaucoma is not known. In this condition there is an increase in the pressure of the fluids in the eyeball.

Another drug known as mecholyl may be employed, together with prostigmine or pilocarpine, particularly if the glaucoma is chronic or long continued. Epinephrine and similar substances are also used in the treatment of glaucoma, and are particularly helpful in cases of chronic glaucoma in which the normal pressure in the eyeball cannot be controlled with the miotics.

Of course, all treatment of this sort should be carried out under the directions of an eye specialist. Glaucoma is a serious condition and one which requires prompt and careful treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

K. B.: Will you please explain what pernicious anemia is and what causes it?

Answer: The cause of pernicious anemia is not known. In this condition, the individual becomes pale, anemic, and may have a slight yellowish tinge to his skin. He becomes weak, has poor appetite and may have intestinal symptoms, such as cramps in the abdomen, nausea, and vomiting. Weight is lost and the patient becomes easily fatigued. The condition may prove fatal if not treated.

A THREE-WAY PROBLEM

OFTEN a declarer will have nine cards of a suit between his hand and the dummy, with the defenders holding the queen and three cards of less than trick-taking size. His hope then is to keep the queen from taking a trick. He has a three-way problem. Shall he try to kill the queen by playing the ace and king? Or should he finesse against his right-hand opponent, or against the one at his left? With no guidance from the bidding or play, he should follow the statistical probabilities in trying to drop it. But if one defender had shown length in certain other suits by his bids, the rather close probabilities are upset, and the odds may favor a finesse against his partner.

The sound, as well as the winning play, was a finesse of the diamond 9 on the second round. West had shown enough spades to open the bidding fourth-hand, also enough hearts to double that suit. Probabilities were heavy that East had more diamonds than he. East's bid of 1-No Trump also made it highly likely that he had what he considered the possible stopper of diamonds, which could be nothing except a twice-guarded queen. Reckoning that way, North should have made his contract.

Deciding to follow the usual probabilities, he led the diamond 9 from his own hand and played the K, hoping West originally held the Q-8. When that failed, his goose was cooked. He gave up a third diamond to East, whereupon two more spade tricks set him.

Mr. and Mrs. Pontious Observe Anniversary

'Golden Wedding' Is Attended By Many Guests

Several guests who were present at the wedding 50 years ago of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey V. Pontious, assisted them in the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary at their home near Adelphi, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Pontious were married at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bowsher, by the Rev. Mr. Dent, pastor of the Methodist church of Adelphi in the presence of the members of the two families.

For the "open house" which prevailed during the afternoon, large bouquets of chrysanthemums decorated the dining room where Mr. and Mrs. Pontious, their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Pontious, received their guests.

Miss Florence Bowsher, sister of the bride, and Mrs. George Rihl a niece of the bride, presided at the table in the dining room which was decorated with a bowl of yellow chrysanthemums and lighted with yellow candles in crystal holders. A lace table cloth further enhanced the attractiveness of the table setting.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Pontious, who are 75 and 74 respectively, are enjoying good health. About 65 guests called during the informal afternoon. Their son David is their only child.

MISS ARLEDGE, G. L. MARQUARD WED AT CHURCH

Palms and yellow chrysanthemums decorated the altar of Pilgrim Holiness church, Thanksgiving day when the Rev. Mr. Rickner of Eaton Rapids, Michigan assisted by the Rev. Mr. Holstein, pastor, officiated at the wedding ceremony for Miss Mildred Elinor Arledge and Gerald Marquard.

The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Arledge, Route 4, Circleville is a graduate of Pickaway township high school and is now attending Bible Holiness seminary, Owosso, Mich. The Rev. H. T. Mills, president of the seminary, gave the bride in marriage.

For her wedding which was a candle light service at 8 p. m., the bride wore a white satin gown with square neckline and long sleeves which tapered to a point over the hands. An over dress of white net formed the long train, and her finger tip veil of tulle fell from a crown of seed pearls. Her arm bouquet was made of white pompons and pink rosebuds intermingled with fern. Streamers of white sweet peas fell from the bouquet to the hem of her gown.

Mrs. Earl Marquard, Charlotte, Mich., sister-in-law of the bridegroom was matron of honor. Her gown was of peach brocade satin and with it she wore a shoulder length veil and carried an arm bouquet of pink pompons. Miss Helen Williams Owosso, Mich. and Miss Gladys Lewis, Portsmouth were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were made alike. Miss Williams of yellow satin and she carried yellow pompons and Miss Lewis' dress was of pink satin and her bouquet was of pink pompons.

Miss Carol Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown, Columbus was flower girl.

Earl Marquard served as best man for his brother. Seating the wedding guests were Ivan Williams, Wendell Stone, Lloyd Walker and Glen Douglas, Owosso, Mich.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Sally Miller pianist and Professor Tom Laurence, violinist played "At Dawning" and "Love You Truly" and softly during the ceremony "The Lord's Prayer", "Always" and "Indian Love Call" completed the musical program.

A reception for 100 guests followed the ceremony in the church parlors. To greet her daughter's wedding guests Mrs. Arledge wore a fuschia colored crepe dress made princess style with square neckline and long sleeve with which she combined brown accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a black crepe dress with white accessories. White pompons, baby mums and pink rosebuds formed

Mr. and Mrs. Pontious Observe Anniversary

'Golden Wedding' Is Attended By Many Guests

Several guests who were present at the wedding 50 years ago of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey V. Pontious, assisted them in the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary at their home near Adelphi, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Pontious were married at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bowsher, by the Rev. Mr. Dent, pastor of the Methodist church of Adelphi in the presence of the members of the two families.

For the "open house" which prevailed during the afternoon, large bouquets of chrysanthemums decorated the dining room where Mr. and Mrs. Pontious, their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Pontious, received their guests.

Miss Florence Bowsher, sister of the bride, and Mrs. George Rihl a niece of the bride, presided at the table in the dining room which was decorated with bowl of yellow chrysanthemums and lighted with yellow candles in crystal holders. A lace table cloth further enhanced the attractiveness of the table setting.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Pontious, who are 75 and 74 respectively, are enjoying good health. About 65 guests called during the informal afternoon. Their son David is their only child.

MISS ARLEDGE, G. L. MARQUARD WED AT CHURCH

Palms and yellow chrysanthemums decorated the altar of Pilgrim Holiness church, Thanksgiving day when the Rev. Mr. Rickner of Eaton Rapids, Michigan assisted by the Rev. Mr. Holstein, pastor, officiated at the wedding ceremony for Miss Mildred Arledge and Gerald Lee Marquard.

For her wedding which was a candle light service at 8 p.m. the bride wore a white satin gown with square neckline and long sleeves which tapered to a point over the hands. An over dress of white net formed the long train, and her finger tip veil of tulle fell from a crown of seed pearls. Her arm bouquet was made of white pompons and pink rosebuds intermingled with fern. Streamers of white sweet peas fell from the bouquet to the hem of her gown.

Mrs. Earl Marquard, Charlotte, Mich., sister-in-law of the bride, groom was matron of honor. A reception for 100 guests followed the ceremony in the church parlors. To greet her daughter's wedding guests Mrs. Arledge wore a fuchsia colored crepe dress made princess style with square neckline and long sleeves with which she combined brown accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a black crepe dress with white accessories. White pompons, baby mums and pink rosebuds formed the corsages for both Mrs. Arledge and Mrs. Marquard.

A miniature bride and groom topped the four tiered cake, cut by the bride and served to her guests.

The new Mrs. Marquard wore a pink wool suit with black accessories and a black top coat when she left with her husband for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and New York City.

Upon their return they will be at home to their friends in their newly furnished apartment at 1020 South Washington street, Owosso, Mich.

RADIO NEWS NOTES

Nancy Kelly, who makes her fifth "Suspense" starring appearance Nov. 29 in "A Week Ago Wednesday," has been an actress as long as she can remember. Though she has never had formal dramatic training, she became a James Montgomery Flagg model at the age of two and at seven was dubbed "America's Most Photographed Child." Her stage debut was made when she was eight and her first film role came shortly afterward (she's appeared in 53 movies since). At ten she became a radio actress and was heard in the program, "The Wizard of Oz." Other series in which she has played frequent roles are "Myrt and Marge" and "March of Time."

A thousand-pound airplane that flies twenty miles on less than a pint of gasoline. Fantastic? Not if airplane designers can incorporate into their planes the flight efficiency of the golden plover. According to Jim Hurley and Dave Newell of the "Fishing and Hunting Club of the Air," the golden plover, which migrates annually from Nova Scotia to South America, makes the 2,400 mile trip in 48 hours, at an average speed of 50 miles per hour... and draws all that energy from only two ounces of fat, "burned up" during the trip.

The recent hurricane in Florida caused only five per cent damage to the orange and grapefruit crop, and the trees showed very little damage.

Mail Early, Wrap Packages Carefully, Postmaster Urges Public

RIGHT ADDRESS,
GOOD WRAPPING
ARE NECESSARY

Gifts Should Be Sent Now
So They Will Arrive
Before Christmas

The public is being asked again this year to cooperate with the Post Office department by mailing Christmas packages early and seeing that they are properly wrapped before bringing them to the Post Office, so as to help ease the tremendous burden on post office workers, A. Hulse Hays, Circleville postmaster, has announced.

Mailers may save time by buying a stock of stamps in advance, he suggested.

Those who wrap their packages properly before bringing them to the post office will not only be saving us a lot of trouble but they will save themselves the trouble of having to do the job twice, since faulty-wrapped packages cannot be accepted for mailing," Mr. Hays stated.

"You should pack all articles carefully in strong durable wrapping, but remember, don't seal them. Sealed packages cannot be mailed at parcel post rates unless they bear a printed endorsement reading 'Contents, merchandise—postmaster, this parcel may be opened for postal inspection if necessary.' Sealed parcels not so labeled are subject to postage at the letter rate," he said.

"Each parcel should be carefully addressed, preferably in ink, giving street address or box or rural route and zone number where applicable. The sender's return address should be placed in the upper left hand corner. Tags should not be used unless necessary, in which case a copy of the address and return card should be placed inside the parcel for identification if the tag is lost," Mr. Hays announced.

Mr. Hays urged that holiday greeting cards be sent by first-class mail. When so sent, he said, the greetings may be sealed and contain written messages, not otherwise permitted, therefore having a personal appeal which is, of course, more highly appreciated by the recipients.

Also, he added, when the cards are sent first-class, they are given quicker service and are forwarded without charge or returned if necessary, if sender places his address in the upper left hand corner.

On the other hand, he said, printed Christmas greetings mailed in unsealed envelopes at the third-class rate which cannot be delivered as addressed, must often be destroyed as waste, thus often causing disappointment, and greetings mailed at this rate are not entitled to free forwarding or return and consequently senders may never know if the cards were received by addressees.

"The requirement that domestic mail, including that for all the possessions of the United States, bearing on the address side adhesive seals or stickers other than postage stamps, shall be unallowable has been suspended from December 1 until January 1, 1946, but patrons should not put such stickers or seals on the address side of the mail," he reported.

Summing up postal regulations that apply to Christmas mailing, Mr. Hays said that, the parcels must not exceed 100 inches in length and girth combined, not over 70 pounds in weight for all zones including Manila, Iloilo, Cebu, Zamboanga, Davao and Baguio in the Philippines, but with a limit of 20 pounds for other points in the Philippines.

'98 VETS HAD DIFFICULTY IN GETTING HOME

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—American soldiers also had a hard time getting home from the Philippines after the war of 1898.

Because they did, the senate has passed a house-approved bill to give $75 each to a number of regular Army men who got stuck in Manila after winning the Spanish-American war and putting down a Philippine insurrection.

The men were discharged in the Philippines, but no boats showed up to take them home. They had to pay their own living expenses while waiting for transportation.

Congress decided the U. S. government should pay them back, but lacking records of Manila restaurant prices in those days, the legislators settled on the flat sum of $75.

Butte, Mont., came into being as a silver camp, but gained renown as "The Richest Hill on Earth" through production of copper.
